Clarification on screening criteria

The Infectious Disease and Infection Prevention Control (ID-IP) COVID-19 Committee discussed the impact of self-administered point of care testing (POCT).

It was noted that health care workers, visitors and patients must pass screening criteria prior to entering a Horizon facility. If they have two symptoms, they fail screening and cannot enter the building, regardless of a negative self-administered POCT result.

The ID-IPC COVID-19 Committee emphasized that point of care testing completed by unvaccinated health care workers is to be completed on prescribed days of the week regardless of symptoms.
